

This is the first Episode IX map that I'm aware of being made for Epic Duels and it's from a pivotal scene in the last movie. There's mostly wide open space in the film during this scene, but for game play purposes I added some large stones to break up the map a little so it isn't just wide open. I opted to make the Sith Throne an obstacle since it is much larger than the Emperor's Throne Chair and in theory wouldn't be able to be shot through.
